PRIMUS for Finance funds, explained simply

You manage an investment fund with $500,000. Your score is how much you grow all the money you were given.

How the night goes

1. Round 1 · Pick winners (22:00–22:45). Read every company's PRD, ask questions on the Q&A board, then bid for shares in the IPO.
2. Round 2 · Trade the crises (22:45–04:45). Four crises hit every company; each one knocks prices down 5%. Then each company's response plan is scored, and the score moves its price. Trade in every trading round: BUY if you think a price will rise, SELL what you own, SHORT if you think it will fall, COVER to close a short.
3. Round 3 · Fresh capital (04:45–06:30). You receive half your starting money again. Watch the draft: companies that pick the same problem compete, so only the best one gets the full price rise.

Tips

- The sector race on the Market page and on the big screen shows which sector is rising.
- Who hired which firm, and for how much, is public in the crisis room: strong firms may mean strong plans.
- You can't trade your own squad's company.
